TOUR & CRUISE

I'll just stay onboard

Canadian Traveller got to hop aboard the Silver Muse when it was recently at port in Quebec City, and it's safe to say we liked what we saw – like, really. As Silversea Cruises' brand new flagship, the Silver Muse offers small-ship intimacy without sacrificing spacious accommodations. Even entry-level suites will satisfy discerning travellers – from the décor, to the closet space, to the bathrooms. What's more is that the ultra-luxury experience boasts a plethora of dining options onboard (eight, to be exact), some of which are new to the Silversea fleet, such as a Atlantide, a seafood and grill concept, and an Italian-themed poolside restaurant, Spaccanapoli. The ship will sail itineraries in both North America and Europe, so guests can enjoy great destinations by day – should they feel compelled to bother disembarking.
